INTRODUCTION

We appreciate the privilege of sending forth the new 1939 Mennonite Year Book and Directory. As you examine the contents of this annual, you will recognize that the year 1938 can be considered a year marking definite growth and expansion in many aspects of church work. This increase is undoubtedly due to the sincere efforts and expended energy of consecrated church members and to the continued blessings and guidance of the heavenly Father. We trust that when our church manifests and maintains an annual increase in wealth, institutions, missionaries, membership, and organizations, that through these means the Lord can add "daily to the church such as should be saved."

The articles in the Year Book are prepared to furnish current reports of the general activities of the church and, in years to come, to provide historical source material. Increased missionary activity is general throughout the church. The article by Bro. Chris Snyder on Bro. and Sister Ernest Bontrager's work at the Bethel Church in Oregon gives a different aspect of Christian work. Relief work in Spain is being expanded; Mexican work in Texas is growing; the borders are being gradually extended in India, South America, and Africa. Three biographical sketches of prominent church leaders tell us of their life and work at home and in the church. All the reading material has been prepared for your perusal and we trust you will profit thereby.

Figures do not reveal everything, yet to a certain extent they are an index to the general state and growth of the constituency. The increase in the number of Sunday schools is due probably to the number of mission Sunday schools being organized in different conference districts and is indicative of the growth and expansion of home mission work. According to statistics tabulated on page 60, fifty more Sunday schools than last year are reported with an increase of more than 5,000 pupils enrolled. Sunday-school offerings for missions and other causes show an increase of $14,000 over last year's report. This year's report shows a definite growth in Sunday-school work as compared with last year's report.

The Mission and Relief contributions totaled $241,529.86, and during the past year increase of about 15%, the total contributions reaching the highest since 1930—when the sum of $260,765.31 was contributed. Each year since 1935, when the total contributions for the year to the General Mission Board were $155,697.43, the offerings have increased. Many reasons may be given for this rise, however, we trust it is due mainly to a fuller realization on the part of every member of his responsibility of stewardship. May 1938 be a step and not a peak in this continued rise.

We wish also to call your attention to the increase in total membership. An increase of about 1,200 brings the present total to 56,478, with 49,335 of this total in United States. Of course we must keep in mind that this gain is the total members over and above all losses such as death, withdrawal, excommunication, etc. The actual additions to the church, not subtracting the losses, would naturally far exceed 1,200. Nevertheless, in a gain of 1,200 members, the present actual gain is one for every forty members.

Each year we attempt to make typographical improvements in the physical construction of the Year Book. It is our aim to make the Year Book as useful as possible and to facilitate the locating of desired information by an orderly and careful arrangement of details. Wherein you see it can be made to serve to greater usefulness, your suggestions will be appreciated.

SUMMARY OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES IN 1938

By S. C. Yoder, Secretary

The first event of marked importance after the close of the fiscal year was the Annual Meeting of the Mission Board held at Wayland, Iowa, in June, 1938. As usual each session was largely attended and important because of its inspirational addresses as well as for the nature of the business transacted. During the session three new missionaries were appointed to go to India and one was approved for return from furlough. Bro. and Sister Wilbur Hostetler and Sister Vesta Nafziger were the new ones and Dora Shantz was appointed to return. This group sailed from New York in October. Bro. and Sister Timothy Brenneman were also appointed for the South American field and Bro. and Sister D. Parke Lantz were appointed to return to the field from the furlough. These missionaries sailed from New Orleans in November, 1938. The recruits should bring strength and courage to those who are already on the field and the prayers of the church go with them in behalf of the work in their respective fields.

From India and South America come reports that are both encouraging and discouraging. The rising spirit of nationalism in both these countries brings with it problems that make it more difficult for the missionary to work effectively. On the other hand it is encouraging to know that these people are developing a personal consciousness in some matters and realize their opportunities and responsibilities. The need now is for workers to consecrate those who are thus awakened to a realization that there are things of greater importance than a national existence, namely, their own personal responsibility to Christ for their own soul. There has also been sickness on the field which will no doubt necessitate the change of some of the workers. This loss should however be offset by the new ones who are going forth to the work.

On the other hand there have also been victories through the prayer of faith, and in spite of the difficulties new souls have come into the kingdom. The new colony for lepers in India is making progress, and it is hoped that it will become a blessing to many who are otherwise deprived of a normal home life in the community.

In the home field several important changes are made in our city missions. Jonathan J. Hostetler and wife were appointed to take charge of the work at Canton where a vacancy was caused by the resignation of Wm. Detweiler who accepted work elsewhere as pastor. Raymond Yoder was appointed as pastor and superintendent of the Home Mission in Chicago, thus filling a vacancy of long standing. From practically all the mission stations there come reports of increasing activity on the part of the adversary and of those who oppose the work of the Lord. This presents to us a challenge of greater faith, more prayer, deeper loyalty and more earnest effort to help those who are struggling with these situations.

The Ohio Old People's Home will be brought to completion by the close of the year, and will be ready for occupancy by that time. The Home for Aged at Eureka, Ill., is filled. The Orphans' Homes at West Liberty, Ohio, and at Kansas City, Kansas, are continuing with their work as usual. The Hospital at La Junta, Colorado, has had a full year and is in need of several substantial improvements in order to operate more effectively with its increased patronage.

One of the most important events of the year was the expansion of the relief unit in Spain. Levi Hartzler who entered the work last year has been appointed as director on the field and two new workers, Lester Hershey and Clarence Fretz, have been appointed to work with him. They sailed for France in September whence they will be transported to Spain where they will begin their work.

As is usual the Mission Board can not escape the problem of finances. The past year has not been an easy one for those who carry the burden of money. The economic recession has cut down the income from many sources. The added expense of the construction of the Old People's Home in Ohio has also been a drain on the resources of the Board. And yet there has been a loyal response to the need, and the work has thus far been able to go on. It is the prayer of those who are responsible to see that the work goes on, that there may be an increase in the offerings during the rest of the year to enable the Treasurer to close his books without a deficit. To this end let us labor and pray, and above all let us not forget to pray that the blessing of God may accompany our gifts so that they may be the means of bringing souls into the fold of the Lord.

INDIA MISSION AND CHURCH

By J. D. Graber

"Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance." We have held on to this promise during the past year, and, although God has not answered our prayers in a spectacular way, we are glad that we can still feel assured that He does and will make every promise good. He has taught us patience frequently; we had the disappointing experience of seeing faith spring up and then seeing it crushed out by the tyranny of caste. The people of India are bound. They are not free to accept what they believe to be true. Satan has in the caste system a terrific machine by which he systematically crushes out any beginnings of faith. No one can imagine the tyranny of the system, which the people themselves seem unable to break, until he has experienced it and has seen it snatch potential believers out of his hand and seen it blight at one fell stroke the tender blade of faith he has so carefully and prayerfully nurtured in some lost soul. This tries faith and requires patience, but God in His mercy supplies all our needs.

The Outcaste Revolt

But there is ever a ray of hope. The outcast revolt continues to develop. The seventy million outcaste people are becoming more and more convinced that Hinduism as a religion is nothing more than a system worked out by the priestly Brahman Caste for their own exaltation and for the enslavement of the outcaste. In certain sections of India these people are moving Christward in masses. In our own and adjoining fields such a movement has not yet taken place, but each year seems to bring the day nearer. A leader of the leather caste, the recognized head of all this caste on this side of Raipur, recently told a missionary and some Indian brethren on tour in his village that if his caste people will not come into the Christian Church in large numbers within the next five or ten years he will cut off a finger from his right hand. This leader has certainly progressed far toward Christianity in the past two years since he was first contacted.

In the early part of the year a group of missionary and Indian brethren made a tour far out to the east central borders of our field. This section is difficult of approach due to an absence of roads and to the hilly, wooded nature of the country. Consequently it is not visited frequently. It was hoped to establish a contact there with some mass movements among the Gara people farther east, but this was found impossible since a mountain range and a very dense forest of wide extent seems to have effectively insulated the Gara people on this side from those moving Christward on the other side. But even if this one objective failed the other objective of preaching the Gospel in many new places was abundantly accomplished.

Political Situation

The political situation continues to be the cause of some concern. The Self-rule party is in power in most provinces, including our own, and a definite pro-Hindu and anti-Christian tendency is discernible. There is no doubt that the freedom enjoyed by Christian missions during the past century under British rule will be more and more curtailed in the future.

The Church

Membership in the church has had a small increase during the past year. There has also been progress in Christian life and in spiritual strength. Definite steps toward more liberal giving, especially toward pastoral support, were taken. It is also encouraging to see our pastoral work coming more and more into the hands of our Indian ministers. We feel the ground has been prepared for more progress along this line during the year just ahead.

Bands of Witness have been formed in a number of congregations and everywhere volunteer evangelism has received much attention. It is gratifying to see the Indian Church take the attitude that definite witnessing and evangelizing is the normal duty and privilege of every believer.

New Field

In order to carry out more effectively the challenge of the Great Commission and in order more effectively to carry out the missionary objective of the Home Church we have been investigating the possibility of opening work in a new field in India. There are a number of openings but no definite decisions have been made nor any action taken. Pray that God may show us the way so that we may ever be found in the truest sense going everywhere making disciples of all people, teaching them to observe all things knowing of a surety that He is (not will be) with us as we go to the very ends of the earth.

THE ARGENTINE MENNONITE MISSION

A Resumé of the Work for 1938

By J. W. Shank

The Missionaries.

The work during the year 1938 was strengthened by the arrival, late in the former year, of seven missionaries. The departure of the Lauvers and Elsa Shank, during the same period, left us with a total gain of only four over the former year. The present missionary body consists of seventeen missionaries and fourteen children, thirty-one in all. Health is reasonably good. All are in the harness and working. The Lantzes and the new missionaries, the Brennemans' are expected in the near future.

Our Native Force.

There are eleven full-time native workers. This includes five married couples and one single sister. There are other part-time workers who are not in active religious work but in the schools and in the printery. One native worker, a young woman, married and moved out of the district, thus being lost to the work. She was an excellent teacher and of strong Christian character.

Bible School Products.

This year, for the first time in five years, we have had a class of students graduating from the complete Bible course of four years. There were three young men and one young woman. Some of these will in all probability be called into active work in the Mission. It is a problem to secure people as students who have the essential character background for definite Christian work.

The Field Outlook.

The field is not decreasing. During the past year work was opened definitely in one new town and periodical visits were begun in several others. The vast rural districts are as yet unreached. Since the farms are so large, the rural districts can not be thickly populated. That makes the problem of rural evangelism more difficult. We feel the need of one man who could be constantly in the field and occupied in evangelistic efforts. There are also many more towns where we should do regular work. The work in the Cordoba District (Cosquin) is growing. An immediate task will be to stake out more definitely the territory we should occupy in that region.

The Congregations: Spiritual Temperature.

A number of congregations are making definite strides forward in activity, increase in membership, and in attendance. Others are rather in the lukewarm class. The general spiritual temperature is better than it was a year ago. This gives us some encouragement to press on.

Medical Dispensary.

The return of Sister Gamber to the field has made possible the revival of the idea of work along the line of nursing. In the Pehuajo property there were several rooms available for some special use, but not altogether satisfactory, as they were, for a medical dispensary. These have been remodeled in such a way as to make a very suitable place for our new medical or nurse's work. There are two rooms available for outside patients, that is, cases of people in delicate health who need the special care of a nurse. Besides, Sister Gamber has two other rooms for herself. This includes space for kitchen and dining. A new bathroom has been installed and a nice storeroom for supplies and clothing. The future of this work will depend upon the vision and opportunities of those in charge.

Bible Coach and Tent Work.

For several years our extreme shortage of workers made it almost impossible to do any constructive work with this equipment. This year a beginning has been made to put new life into the movement. At the close of the year an active campaign is on. Under the auspices of the same department special series of meetings for evangelism have been held in all of the regular stations and in many of the outstations. The results have been gratifying.

The Endless Task.

"How can they believe in him of whom they have not heard?" Oftentimes we feel keenly the force of these words. There are literally tens of thousands of people, living in the towns occupied by the Mission, who have not in r e a l i t y heard of Him whom we preach. Sometimes we can spend days visiting from door to door trying to interest people in our Christ, and yet, after the campaign is over, we look sadly over the situation and say, "Is it possible that they still do not care?" Jesus was often amazed at the unbelief of men. Is it surprising that the world is full of unbelief today when the so-called Christian nations fail to practice the teachings of the Christ in whom they profess to believe? No; our task is not done. It is yet in its beginnings. It is an endless task while the world stands.

The Supreme Vision.

"With you alway . . . even unto the end of the world." In our minds we picture the workers who through the centuries went up and down in the world, tarrying here and there, exploring new fields and suffering the pains of hard service. In the name of Christ they went gladly and boldly, for had not Christ promised to be with them? Our vision today is sometimes blurred by hard refusals and opposition, by the ignorance and superstition of our audiences; yet we clearly see what our task is. We see the possibilities in the life of one saved soul. We see what might come of one small congregation built up in His name. God give us more vision and more courage to follow on. Christ has promised to be with us always, and we can not fail.

MEXICAN BORDER MISSION

By David C. Alwine

While our Mexican mission field of South Texas is not officially divided into districts, we shall do so here for convenience and in order to give a better idea of our present work. We shall divide it into three districts in the order in which they were entered; Beeville district, Falfurrias district, and Kenedy district. Beeville district has two mission points, Falfurrias and Kenedy 1. The distance between Falfurrias and Kenedy is about 130 miles. Beeville is 35 miles from Kenedy and Falfurrias is 95 miles from Beeville.

Beeville District

The two mission points in this district are Normanna and Tynan. Work was opened at Normanna in December, 1936, and at Tynan in April, 1938. Bro. and Sister Amsa Kauffman have charge of the work, besides overseeing the work of the other districts. Sister Anna Hallman of the Tuleta congregation is assisting. Some of the Mexican members are actively helping in the Sunday school, leading in prayer, leading in song, and in distributing of tracts.

At Normanna, Sunday school, morning worship services, and evening services are conducted every Sunday. The average attendance at present is around thirty. With the attendance increasing the work at this place looks very encouraging. So far fifteen have been received into the church. We are glad for a number of testimonies that have been expressed by those who have been reached. One Brother has this to say about the Mennonite Church: "I know and have come in contact with all the churches [that are working among the Mexicans] and I find none that believe and teach the Bible like our church." An old Brother exclaimed, "I wish I had known this fifty years ago I might have been a Christian then." A young brother in whom we have much confidence, is frequently seen in conversation with his fellow Mexicans speaking to them about the Bible.

The services at Tynan have been suspended for the past three months due to the fact that not enough Mexicans remained during the cotton season to continue services. Most of them have returned and the work will be resumed. During the past summer the attendance ranged from fifteen to fifty. The services up to this time have been conducted informally in a Mexican's home. This is a strictly farming community, and the work can be expected to be somewhat irregular.

Falfurrias District

Bro. and Sister Arthur Schertz are located in this district and have charge of the work at La Gloria. They have this to say about the work there: "Work at La Gloria was started Apr. 27, 1938, in the La Gloria schoolhouse. During the summer we had the meeting on Wednesday evening, but since school has started, our meetings are on Sunday afternoon. La Gloria is five miles north of Falfurrias. It really is not a town any more but there are quite a few houses around and a consolidated school. So after all it is a good field to work in, and we find they are anxious to receive Testaments, Gospels, and Christian literature.

"The attendance ranges between fifteen and thirty. Although we have been working with these people for eight months, none have been added to the church, but interest among them is encouraging. Most of those who come to services are of the poorer class of people, so of course we have a few calls for food and clothing. We took a few eatables Sunday to a family. The grandfather, who supports the family, fell off a wagon and hurt his back, so he is not able to work. His daughter, who is a widow, and her five small children live with them. We always stop on our way and take some of them along with us to La Gloria.

"The fact that many children go to school is encouraging in our work with them. Some of the older ones can understand a little English, but we have most of the services in Spanish so all can understand.

We feel we are just beginning this work and that many are still to be reached. We crave an interest in your prayers as we labor for the Lord at La Gloria."

Kenedy District

After prospecting for several months in this district we decided on Helena as the first place to open work. We had the first services there on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 20, 1938, with an attendance of about fifty-five. The second Sunday (at this writing only two meetings have been held) the attendance dropped to fifteen. But a circus in Karnes City, six miles away, and cool weather kept many away.

The community has quite a large Mexican population. There are 103 Mexican children enrolled in the school for this year, and not all in the community are enrolled. So the Mexican population of the community is 200 or more. In the last two years there have been evangelists of several denominations in the town holding series of meetings but no permanent work has been carried on. Because of this, the people are not entirely ignorant of the Scriptures. We know of several who have been baptized and are members of Protestant churches. With this background it seems advisable to begin Sunday-school work at once.

The services are being held in a Presbyterian church building that has not been used by Americans for eight years. The trustee of the building gladly gave us permission to use the building, provided we teach the evangelical faith. We are fortunate in being able to secure this building as public school buildings are not so convenient.

We (the writer and family) live in this district and will be largely responsible for the work. Bro. Elmer Schrock and Sister Mable Schrock, of Kenedy, and members of the Tuleta congregation, have consented to help in the work at Helena.

Unreached Territory

In each of these districts there are many small rural communities in the center of which is a cotton gin, a school, a store or so, and a few dwelling houses. In many cases the population is almost entirely Mexican. Will you pray that we may enter these fields in the power of His Spirit who alone can open men's hearts?

SPANISH RELIEF WORK

By John L. Horst

When relief work was begun in Spain in the fall of 1937, no one knew how long the need would continue. Bros. Levi Hartzler and D. Parke Lantz were sent to the field with instructions to carry on work during the winter and as much later as the need warranted. Bro. Lantz returned about May 1, 1938, while Bro. Hartzler remained in Spain until July, when he came to France and Switzerland to meet Bro. Orie Miller, chairman of the Mennonite Relief Committee, who was in Europe at that time.

Bro. Hartzler had made an extended trip of investigation through South Republican Spain, and in the light of his report it was decided to continue the work for another winter. The war had by that time dragged on into its third year, and it had become apparent that the need was greater than ever. Accordingly arrangements were made to send two additional workers to Spain to assist Bro. Hartzler. Bros. Lester

T. Hershey, Pehuajo, Argentina, and Clarence Fretz, Perkasie, Pa., were appointed to the work and sailed from New York on the S. S. Queen Mary, Oct. 6. They arrived and were met at Paris by Bro. Hartzler on Oct. 12, 1938. On Oct. 19 Bro. Hartzler left for Spain, arriving in Barcelona on the following day. He at once began to make plans for organizing the work so that all would be in readiness to establish feeding centers for the distribution of food and clothing when the other brethren arrived.

In the meanwhile Bros. Hershey and Fretz remained in Paris to await the finishing of two trucks which they were to take to Spain. The completion of the trucks was delayed much longer than it was expected and they were not able to leave Paris until Nov. 19. They went overland to Marseilles where they arrived the following day. Then followed a long wait for the boat to sail for Spain. They finally went by truck to Barcelona, where they spent a few days investigating relief work carried on there until the ship bearing their trucks arrived. On Dec. 26 they sailed from Barcelona on the British freighter "Stanwood," on which they had originally intended to travel from Marseilles, and on Jan. 2, 1939, we received a cable stating that they were safe in Valencia with the trucks and that the first shipment of clothing was also at hand. At this writing they are no doubt hard at work in distributing food and clothing to the many thousands of needy women, children, and refugees in interior Spain. The work of Brethren Hershey and Fretz became extraordinarily heavy when Bro. Hartzler was stricken with typhoid fever soon after their arrival.

By arrangement with other relief organizations at work in South Republican Spain, the territory was divided and assigned to the various groups so that there would be no unnecessary duplication of efforts. To our workers were assigned the two provinces of Ciudad Real and Jaen, having a total population of over a million people. They are the sole foreign relief workers in this area and have a large task before them. In addition to the clothing and food supplied by our people our workers will have the task of helping to distribute some of the Red Cross supplies sent from America. The Red Cross and the American government furnish flour but give the work of distribution over to relief workers already on the field. Besides, they will also receive some supplies from the International Commission for the Relief of Refugee Children, which works on a similar plan.

Our workers are planning to make the city of Valdepenas, in the province of Ciudad Real their headquarters.

Temporary Living Quarters of Spanish Refugees

Their supplies will be trucked inland from Valencia, and then from Valdepenas taken out to the various distributing centers in the two provinces.

The Relief Committee appreciates the support which the church has given thus far in the Spanish Relief program. Last year over $18,000 were contributed in money and over 13,000 pounds of clothing. In this winter's program already over 12,000 pounds of clothing have been contributed and sent to Spain in three different shipments: On the S. S. Westcussetten, which sailed from New York Nov. 5; the S. S. Collamer, which sailed from Philadelphia, Dec. 4; and the S. S. Cypria, which left the same port on Jan. 14. The Sewing Circles are to be commended highly for their generous responses in sending in a high grade of new and used clothing, shoes, soap, and other materials. There is still some clothing coming in which will probably enable us to make a small shipment later. Generous gifts of funds have also been coming to our treasurer and should enable us to carry on the program which has been planned and which may require the sending of some additional workers.

The Relief Committee desires the prayers of the Church in behalf of this work so that it may be conducted in a way that the Lord's blessing may rest upon it, and that not only many lives may be helped materially but that at the same time a definite Christian testimony may be given. Our workers need especial grace to labor in a field where all the uncertainties and dangers of modern warfare are constantly affecting them and their work in some way.

Scottdale, Pa., Jan. 17, 1939.

Christian hope is founded on the promises of God. The hope which exceeds these promises is worldly. Respecting this life God's promises are conditional, and to be fulfilled only as He sees their accomplishment to be subservient to His glory and our good, while as to the life to come they are absolute.—Robert Haldane.

MENNONITES IN PARAGUAY

By H. S. Bender

Mennonites constitute a relatively small group in the religious world, yet it is remarkable how widely they have become scattered over the face of the globe. The most recent region of Mennonite settlement is the continent of South America. Since 1927 five colonies have been located in the southern part of the continent, two in Brazil and three in Paraguay, with a total of approximately 6,000 souls.

The first settlement in Paraguay was made by a conservative Mennonite group from Manitoba, Canada, who were dissatisfied with the restrictions placed upon them by the Canadian school laws. They wished to retain their German language and their private German schools. In addition they felt the pressure of the surrounding world and were afraid that they could not maintain their principles against this growing pressure. With the aid of General Samuel McRoberts, a New York banker who organized several corporations to take over the Mennonite land in Manitoba and secure the necessary land in Paraguay, some 2,000 persons migrated to their new home in western Paraguay in 1927. This group is organized as "Colonia Menno," and constitutes a distinct group belonging chiefly to the so-called "East Reserve" Manitoba group. They have kept their ancient customs, traditions, and practices very much as they were when they came from Russia to Manitoba in 1874-75.

The second Mennonite settlement in Paraguay was made in 1930 by Mennonite refugees from Russia who were aided by the German government in their escape from Russia and in their transport to South America. The Mennonite Central Committee raised approximately $200,000 to purchase equipment for this group and support it with food until it was able to support itself. Most of this money came from the Mennonite churches in North America. Approximately 2,000 persons settled in this colony. They were located on land adjoining the Menno colony in western Paraguay. Both the Menno colony and the Fernheim colony are located in what is known as the "Gran Chaco," approximately 120 to 150 miles west of Puerto Casado, a harbor on the Paraguay River.

The Russian refugee colony is organized as "Colonia Fernheim." While it is thoroughly conservative in faith and practice, it is more progressive in spirit and more open to modern ways of living and working than the Menno colony.

A third colony was established in Paraguay in 1937 as a result of a division in the Fernheim colony. Approximately one third, or nearly 800 persons, left the mother colony because of discouragement and dissatisfaction with the colony management. This group purchased land on the eastern side of the Paraguay River near to Asuncion. It is just recently established, and future prospects are not yet clear.

The Mennonites of Paraguay have been granted unusual privileges due to the desire of the Paraguayan government to secure good agricultural settlers to settle the country. These privileges are guaranteed by a law passed by the Paraguayan Parliament in 1922 and confirmed in 1926, and include freedom of conscience, freedom of language, freedom of schools, freedom of economic organization, and civil autonomy. They also include freedom of taxation for ten years and tariff-free import for ten years. This is a remarkable grant which is worth a great deal to the Mennonite settlers in Paraguay. They are thereby granted practically complete self-government and the privilege to develop their life and faith unhindered by outside interference. It is true that they live in a country which is poverty stricken and backward, and that their home at the present is a wilderness which is altogether undeveloped and which is remote from civilization. It is also true that they are handicapped by a semitropical climate and distances from markets. However, nowhere in the world do Mennonites today enjoy the privileges which they have in Paraguay, expect possibly in Canada.

The eight years which have elapsed since the location of the Russian refugees in Paraguay have been years of hardship and struggle. Some have given up the battle and left the colony; others have grown discouraged and dispirited. However, the main body of the colonists have gone courageously forward, bearing hardships and suffering as a part of the price which they are paying for their liberties. They look forward with hope into the future. They have made substantial progress economically and have a comfortable living, though it would seem rather poor and crude to those who are used to the comforts and conveniences of modern North American civilization. Their chief crops are cotton, peanuts, kaffir corn, cattle, and dairy products.

The relationship of the Mennonite churches of North America to the Russian Mennonite colonies in Paraguay has been a close one in the past and should continue to be close in the future. The young settlements in Paraguay think of the North American churches as the mother church to whom they owe undying gratitude. The Mennonite Central Committee continues to represent the North American churches in their relation to the colonies, and keeps in constant touch with the colonies, both by correspondence and by sending personal representatives occasionally. The Mennonite Central Committee has purchased approximately 320,000 acres of land in Paraguay on which the Fernheim colony is located, although the colony itself has bought only 40,000 acres of this land which it is paying over a period of fifteen years. Thus the Mennonite Central Committee will continue to be interested in the welfare of the Mennonites of Paraguay for many years to come. It is to be hoped that the Mennonite churches of North America will likewise continue to be interested in their spiritual and material welfare, and that through this connection, strength, faith, and progress will come to the Mennonites of South America.

ACTIVITIES OF EASTERN MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES IN 1938

By Henry F. Garber, President

Under God's blessing we have been enabled to carry on through another year. The year 1938 in many ways was different from other years in the history of our Board. But in other respects, it was very much like other years in the work accomplished. At this early date we cannot report the growth in Sunday-school attendance and church membership in our various missions. But we have every reason to believe that the growth has been normal.

There are now twenty-six home mission stations listed in "The Missionary Messenger," eighteen of which are directly under the supervision of our Board. The work of the Welsh Mountain Mission gradually changed until it became pretty largely an old people's home, and was known as Welsh Mountain Samaritan Home. It was felt that the work among the colored could best be served by having a separate organization. This has been done to the improvement of the work of the Home and the Mission.

The first six months showed a drop of 20% in receipts for all purposes. The second half of 1938 will be almost equal to the second half of 1937. The year is incomplete as I write this. But it can be assumed that receipts for the year will be at least 10% less than 1937.

This decline was in the year that witnessed one of our biggest building programs. During the year the Philadelphia Mission was provided with a church building. Connected with it, a three-story residence was remodeled for Sunday-school purposes. It now has one of the best equipped plants in the conference.

At the York Mission additions were made to the church, providing anterooms, new benches, basement rooms, and toilet facilities. It is a great improvement over the old one-room church building.

At Steelton work has been carried on in the social hall of another denomination. This was unsatisfactory in a number of ways. A three-story residence and store building was purchased in a better location and remodeled. The Mission now has three floors for living quarters, a commodious audience room, and two large rooms upstairs for Sunday-school purposes. The superintendent and his wife now live in the Mission.

The Colored Mission in Lancaster has been so crowded for several years that something had to be done. Just now a church building is being erected on a convenient site. This should prove a great help to the Colored Mission in Lancaster.

On the foreign field in East Africa the work is expanding. Two new couples have been sent to the field during the year. One, Bro. Mack, is a doctor. Another couple will be sent soon after the new year.

The first missionary furloughs have begun. The Stauffers returned to America on November 24th. We can normally expect that there will be some African missionaries home on furlough continuously from now on.

A new step in Lancaster Conference circles was the sending of a deputation to visit the African field. Bishop Henry Lutz was the representative from the Bishop Board and the writer was the representative from the Mission Board. They spent 116 days in East Africa. They assisted the Mission in working out a permanent organization and a permanent policy along a number of lines. While on the field Bishop Lutz ordained Bro. Stauffer to the bishop office in the presence of the native church. It was a very impressive service and seemed to be much appreciated by the native brethren.

The deputation returned to America on November 4. They were much impressed with the opportunity awaiting Christian missions all over East Africa. The work on our own field is very encouraging. The missionary seems to be welcome everywhere. This is not true in all parts of the world.

The understanding of mission problems, which this visit made possible, ought to be a great help in the years that are ahead. And we believe with the missionaries that representatives should be sent occasionally to visit the field.

The expansion that is going on at home and on the foreign field in the face of reduced income ought to present a challenge to all of us to see that this important work of the Lord's should not suffer from lack of money or workers. We praise Him for what has been possible in the past and trust Him for the work that lies ahead.

Mt. Joy, Pa.

AFRICA IN 1938

By John H. Mosemann, Jr.

"Thou crownest the year with thy goodness." It is always thus. Every thoughtful servant of Christ is increasingly impressed with the unmistakable evidence of God's daily blessing.

In our African work through the past year there have been numerous indications that God has been in the midst of us. The following glimpses of happenings throughout the year may interest you.

Two young men from the Majita-Mugango District entered the Training School at Bukiroba. In addition to the five others who previously entered, they are being prepared for leadership in the Native Church. During the year it was decided that this school shall confine its work to Biblical instruction only.

In April the Wengers arrived to assist in the work on Mugango Station. Their language preparation was quite well begun by the time the Stauffers left the station and field for furlough. The latter's going was the first of furloughs granted.

Permission was r e c e i v e d to open work in the Kuria country where the field is very promising. The site was selected and full authorization granted to begin that work in the Nyabasi Chiefship. This will likely be the most ideal situation of all our stations from the standpoint of altitude, rainfall, etc.

The first church building at Bumangi was completed. At the opening service nearly five hundred natives crowded into the building, representing a cross section of the people in the Zanaki field.

At the year's end more than 300 natives were enrolled in the p r i m a r y schools on our four stations.

Two junior missionaries came to live with us—Joseph S h e n k and Daniel Wenger. They were most welcome to all the Mission family.

The visit of the Deputation from home was an outstanding event of the year. Brethren Lutz and Garber, accompanied by Sister Garber, rendered the Mission invaluable service in the advice and counsel given us, and the benefits of their visit will continue throughout their ministry in the homeland. The response of the natives to this official visit will long be remembered by those who continually heard the exclamations of appreciation and joy.

An important step was taken in the choosing of native brethren to serve on a Church Council together with the local pastor. This is intended to lead the native church into a consciousness of its own responsibilities and privileges. It should mean increased sympathy for and co-operation with those who have the duty of church oversight.

The Second Annual Conference was held late in August at Bukiroba. It was again a time of blessing. At the close of the meetings Bro. Elam Stauffer was ordained by lot as the first bishop of the Mennonite Church in Africa. This also has a warm response in the hearts of our native brethren.

A new church building was begun at Shirati so that the old building could be entirely devoted to school purposes.

A set of by-laws for the Africa Mission has been drafted, governing the operations and policies on this field.

Deeply appreciated was the visit of Sister Anna Engle from the Brethren in Christ Mission in Rhodesia.

Dr. and Sister Mack arrived in November and will be busy in language studies until they proceed to assist in opening the work and the Nyabasi Station—possibly in May, 1939.

Our Women's and Girls' Work Committee has thoroughly studied problems relating to Girls' Work and have outlined policies for the conduct of such work.

May the year 1939 find the army of African prayer-supporters greatly increased and waging an effective warfare against him who "blinds the minds of them that believe not."

THE FRANCONIA MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES

By Marvin D. Ruth, Secretary

"Ye shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth." The Mission Board of the Franconia Conference has endeavored by the grace of God to carry out in a small way this last and very definite command of the Lord Jesus. The prayers for more laborers have been answered in part by the Spirit, moving the Conference to lay hands on, and ordain two young men for the ministry to serve at mission stations. During the year there were nine series of evangelistic meetings held at the mission stations throughout the district. The visible results were twenty-seven confessions sealed by baptismal vows. Pray to the end that they may all be kept by the power of God through faith.

It is also with a feeling of gratitude and thankfulness that we think of the large number of consecrated young brethren and sisters, who in times of discouragement, as well as in times of encouragement, have faithfully taught the Word in the Sunday schools at the eight mission stations. Our prayer is that their witness, by precept as well as by example may continue to go out for the salvation of the lost and that the Holy Spirit may direct them in solving the problems that continually confront them.

The Board rejoiced in the privilege of holding a farewell meeting for Bro. Noah K. Mack and family. Bro. Mack is the third one who has gone from this district to the African field. And although these were all sent out and are supported by the Lancaster Board, we feel this will be very helpful in creating a greater interest in foreign mission work in our district. We feel the first real interest in foreign mission work, in the Franconia conference district was due largely to the witness of returning missionaries telling what the grace of God was doing for benighted heathen through the teaching and preaching of the Word. And we feel assured, when those who have gone from our own district, return and give the same testimony that it will increase the interest. The sum of six thousand one hundred dollars was contributed to help carry the witness of the gospel to the uttermost part of the earth and an additional twenty-one hundred and fifty-one dollars was given for relief work. The total disbursements of the Board for the year were fourteen thousand eight hundred eighty-four dollars and thirty-three cents.

We thank the Lord for moving the brotherhood to give this amount. But we believe that there is a large amount of talent and money in the district that are frozen assets as far as the mission cause is concerned. But we just as firmly believe that by continued teaching, fervent prayer, and under the sunshine of God's love much of it can be thawed out and allowed to run into channels that God has commanded. We look forward with hopes, as there seems to be a healthy growth in the work. We request the prayers of the brotherhood at large, that as we lengthen the cords we may also strengthen the stakes, and that we may allow the Holy Spirit to be the guide as well as the overseer in the work.

THE MENNONITE BOARD OF EDUCATION AND OUR CHURCH SCHOOLS

By O. O. Miller

The year 1938 will probably not stand out as particularly eventful in any one respect as far as the Church's educational program is concerned. It is rather one of a cycle of years, which we hope may continue indefinitely, during which some steady substantial progress can be noted along a number of lines.

Finances

This is the fifth year since which the Board as well as both schools have operated on a pay-as-you-go basis. There have been no deficits in any one year. This has become a generally accepted policy. The past year has, however, been the first of the five when it was possible to meet fully the faculty allowance standards under this policy. Until the past two years no progress toward debt reduction seemed possible. Now, however, a debt service is being established which, if faithfully adhered to, will liquidate the total combined debt of about $75,000 in a period of from ten to fourteen years. Plant and departmental equipment has been built up and maintained in a fairly satisfactory manner from current income. Building upkeep, repair, and campus improvement have had to be similarly provided. Since 1931 there have been no funds available for new buildings, which is now one of the most urgent needs. The Memorial Library for Goshen College to cost about $52,000 is authorized by the Board, but building cannot begin until 75% of this total is available in cash and the balance subscribed. A new combined housing and school building is urgently needed at Hesston. Those closest to this work now feel that a clearly thought-out building program must have precedence over a further major effort to raise endowments, which, however, also is essential to a rounded out adequately envisioned financial program.

Enrollment

Totals for Goshen continue about as the year before—perhaps by the end of the year showing a very slight increase. Hesston enrollment continues the 10% increase over last year, which has been the trend there for the past three or four years. Changes in local state laws governing the training of elementary teachers helped account for the comparison in both instances.

Standardization and Accreditment

There has been no major change in Goshen's status. However, in faculty training, in setting of Educational technique and procedure, and in administrative organization the institution is making steady progress in shaping herself to merit N. C. A. accreditment. Hesston's Junior College received full accreditment for last year's work by the Kansas State Board of Education—a status lost some years back, but which Hesston now hopes to hold.

Church-School Relationships

Both schools today seem to enjoy a wider and fuller church support in prayer, in interest, and in finances than they ever did before. The brotherhood throughout has come to accept the Board's educational program and the work of the schools as a necessarily integral part of her whole program. This relationship is likewise becoming increasingly clear to all those connected with this department of the Church's work and loyalty to institution and Church are becoming synonymous.

Final note might be made of the continued growth in Bible school, Bible department enrollments and course offerings, and raising of training standards—this condition paralleling a continued growth in number and size of short-term schools throughout the Brotherhood. We believe this trend has the Master's approval.

THE EASTERN MENNONITE SCHOOL IN 1938

By A. G. Heishman, Secretary of the Board of the Eastern Mennonite School

During commencement week, June 6, 1938, the Trustees of Eastern Mennonite School met in annual session in the school auditorium. Reports showed another year of encouraging results. Not least among these is the fact that the School again came through the year without a deficit in the operating expenses. This success was made possible by the larger attendance, careful and diligent effort by the faculty, business manager and his conscientious assistants.

Board members expressed gratitude for the way in which the Lord has blessed the work and for the prayers, advice, and material help rendered by the many friends of the School. Especially gratifying is the substantial interest and help coming from our young people; not only from those who have been in attendance at the School, but also from the many others who have given their support. This help and support brings joy to the hearts of those who for the past twenty years have labored hard to promote and build this institution and make it a real asset to the Church. As we review the progress made during the past twenty years, we envision greater growth for the future. Starting with school and Bible training that we did not have, the younger brethren and sisters stepping into the work along the way should make greater progress if the Lord continues to bless the work; and we believe He will.

Among the new matters considered and approved by the Board was the installation of air conditioning equipment for the Chapel, and the appointment of Bro. Henry Lutz, Mt. Joy, Pa., to fill the vacancy on the Religious Welfare Committee caused by the death of Bishop George R. Brunk. Bro. Brunk has served on this committee since the School was first organized.

Since the annual meeting, the Board's Executive Committee has held a number of meetings during the summer and fall, and besides the usual routine, has had the air conditioning equipment installed, much to the comfort of student body, as well as the many others attending services in the chapel.

At these various meetings the need and prospects of future growth have been discussed from time to time. As the Church continues to grow she will demand larger and stronger schools. To meet this demand, prayerful thought and continued preparation are necessary. Of these, both Board and faculty are keenly conscious, and have already been praying, planning, and preparing. One of the apparent needs of the School at the present time is a standard four-year college course. Supplying this college course and further strengthening and enlarging of the departments already in operation will afford additional opportunities to larger numbers of our young people. However, advancing steps will be taken by the Board, only as the Church approves and the Lord continues to bless the work. In this as in all our activities we are most secure in following the leadings of the Lord. May He direct, is our prayer.

THE MENNONITE PUBLISHING HOUSE, THE SERVANT OF THE CHURCH

By A. J. Metzler, General Manager

The Mennonite Publishing House, which was established in 1908, has now served the Church for more than thirty years.

The Mennonite Publication Board owns and controls the Publishing House located at Scottdale, Pa., and three branch stores, located at Lancaster and New Holland, Pa., and Kitchener, Ontario. This Board is made up of twenty-five brethren. Each district conference affiliated or co-operating with the Mennonite General Conference elects one representative for each five thousand members or fraction thereof. In addition to the Board members elected by the district conferences, the General Conference appoints three members and the Publication Board appoints three members-at-large. These, together with the House officers, form the Board. The Board meets biennially just previous to General Conference. The Executive Committee of the Board meets annually at the Publishing House.

Under the blessing of the Lord and the co-operation of the brotherhood, the work has grown until at the present time there are fifty people serving the Church in connection with this work. (A few of these are part-time nonresident editors.) Assets totaling more than $350,000 are being used.

As always, it is the desire of the Publishing House to enlarge and perfect its service to the Church and further to aid the Church in extending its borders beyond. We list here a few steps in this direction during the past year.

The Gospel Herald has been reduced in price from $2.00 a year to $1.50 a year. This reduction in price, together with the free offer to all ministers (bishops and preachers), as well as further reductions to worthy poor, we believe should enable the Herald to enter every home in our denomination.

A further improvement in the service of the Herald has been a changing of our printing schedule, so that with only a few exceptions during the last several months, all the mailing is done on Tuesday, instead of Tuesday and Wednesday, as heretofore. This schedule means subscribers in the eastern states should receive the Gospel Herald one day earlier than previously. This has been done without changing the hour for closing last form of the Herald. Last minute news items can still be inserted if received Monday morning.

Another change in our schedule during 1938 now makes it possible for practically 95% of all orders received to be shipped within twenty-four hours. A large majority of these orders really go out within six hours after they reach the Publishing House. Because of the elimination of many local trains here and in rural sections where a great number of our folks live, we find parcel post service has been somewhat delayed. Our change of schedule, which enables us to get orders out more promptly here, we believe will partly offset this.

For the benefit of our Canadian customers the Golden Rule Book Store in Kitchener, Ont., has been taken over by the Publishing House during the past year. Under the management of Bro. J. C. Fretz and with the co-operation of the brotherhood in those parts, this move seems to be filling a definite need.

In view of the changes in advertising and sales technique in general during the past few decades, it has been felt that closer contacts could well be made with our congregations and homes. With this in mind it is planned that more House representatives will be used in personal house-to-house work in serving our people with good literature. These representatives may be chosen on the basis of one or two from each conference district. It is planned that they should visit every home at least once a year. Only the highest type of brethren are desired for this service. In so far as possible such brethren are being chosen from among the constituency they serve and in consultation with the local church and conference leaders.

In order further to promote mutual understanding and co-operation between the Publishing House and the Church which it serves, a House representative visited practically all conferences in their regular sessions during the past year.

The accompanying chart will give a partial view of the work being done regularly by the House. In addition to this, of course, are all the tracts, pamphlets, booklets, and books published each year.

THE RURAL MISSION OF THE BETHEL MENNONITE CHURCH

By Chris Snyder

In recent years rural mission work by the Mennonite Church has received considerable recognition, and rightly so, for in rural communities there are many families who are without any religious teaching. In some cases there is not even a Bible in the home. Our farming communities are a part of God's great field and are included in the Great Commission.

These facts, together with the aim of the Mennonite Church to do Bible teaching in neglected districts, are no doubt the reason for a definite conviction on the part of some for a supported, full-time missionary work by the Bethel congregation near Canby, Oregon. For at least fourteen years this conviction has been nourished through prayer and consultation with those who are interested in enlarging the mission field of the Church. These were years of waiting for the Lord to send those who had a vision of doing rural house-to-house visitation work.

In the endeavor to secure consecrated and qualified workers for such a program as this, many contacts were made, but the Lord evidently waited His own time to bring about the necessary conditions for launching it. Last year an evangelist, who had previously held meetings here at Bethel and had become intensely interested in this proposed cause, held meetings in the vicinity of Midland, Mich., where he disclosed the proposition to Brother and Sister Ernest Bontrager of that place, whom he then recommended to us. After about five months of corresponding and investigating on our part and theirs, they accepted this call, arriving here at Eastertime in 1938.

Evangelistic meetings which were conducted at the beginning of this rural work, served to introduce the new workers to the immediate community in which they accompanied the evangelist in his visitation work. This first month was devoted to distribution of "The Way" (now a permanent part of each month's work) and canvassing for summer Bible school. This school which was held in June was real encouragement to the progress of this missionary enterprise, in that it gave opportunity for follow-up work. In October a week-day Bible class was started for school children. This meets once a week, after school hours, in a home near the school. Growing interest is evident. The most recent development in the work is a manual training project for boys of early teen age. This class meets weekly and includes a devotional period. It is the outgrowth of a weekly hike with the boys during the past summer. Its purpose is to attract boys toward Bible teaching.

In the seven months of service so far, our workers have shown their adaptability to the work, and good results are in evidence. There is a class of four converts under instruction now, of which three are a direct result of Brother and Sister Bontrager's labors. All four are from non-Mennonite homes. A home where family problems continued to be unsolved has been kept together through their efforts, and the mother and son are now among the converts.

The Bontragers live in their trailer-house on the church grounds, and go about in their Plymouth car. At present the territory covered is about three miles square, and contains 118 non-Mennonite homes. Each one of these homes is visited once a month, and in case of invalids, oftener. Cottage meetings are held in several homes each month. The majority of the homes welcome the workers. Never has a door been slammed nor a copy of "The Way" refused.

Does this work pay? Ask the converts, several of whom have expressed their appreciation over and over. Ask the workers, whose hearts have been gladdened again and again at the reception and response given them during their monthly rounds to the homes. Ask the Bethel congregation, whose membership has been provoked to greater effort in bringing in the lost, in ministering to physical needs, and in living consistent lives that bear testimony to what our workers teach.

This is a great work. Our workers are finding more to do than they can accomplish, even by giving full-time service. And this field is merely typical of hundreds of others surrounding or bordering our Mennonite communities everywhere. "Where there is no vision the people perish."

OBJECTIVES OF THE MENNONITE COMMISSION FOR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK FOR 1939

By John R. Mumaw, General Secretary

The organized church of Jesus Christ finds itself engaged in many interests and in various activities. It holds in trust the mysteries of the Gospel. It serves a long term of matronage in supervising the life and conduct of God's children. It is responsible for providing places and occasions of divine worship for His people. It is given the task of carrying on a program of systematic instruction and training of its constituency. It is charged with the responsibility of promulgating the Christian faith through missionary endeavors.

The Board of Missions and Charities is a delegation of the Church to carry on its work of missions. It is a distinct department of activity under Church control. In the same way the Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work has been made responsible for the supervision of the teaching work of the Church.

While the teaching agencies of the Mennonite Church in former years have done a noble work, it was discovered that for various reasons, the work of the different committees was not very well co-ordinated. Consequently, it was thought best to set up an organization which would bring together the work of the General Sunday School Committee, of the Young People's Bible Meeting Committee, of the Young People's Problems Committee, and of the Mission Study Courses Committee under the supervision of one group which is directly responsible to General Conference. To meet that need, after several years of careful and prayerful study and planning, the tentative constitution of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work was adopted by the General Conference in session at Turner, Oreg., in 1937.

During the first year of its organization the Commission concerned itself largely with getting properly organized, and with formulating policies for its work. Upon entering the second year of its activity it has put the left foot forward with expectation and hope. With so much to be done, we feel it is time to get into the swing of action.

At the third semiannual meeting of the Commission a motion to adopt a Bible Reading Program brought its initial project under way. A promotional leaflet has been prepared and sent out to our entire Church constituency. This represents the conviction of the Commission urging people to become Bible readers. We mean to stimulate daily Bible reading in every home. We want every Mennonite to acquire the habit of reading his Bible daily. It is our aim to have this idea carried into each congregation. We hope it will command the attention of every person who is within the circle of influence promoted by the local teaching agencies of the Church. The editors of our Mennonite periodicals are co-operating in this movement and expect to encourage Bible reading in their columns throughout the year.

We also aim to begin a program of home-building. It will emphasize the importance of Christian education in the family. It will be our purpose to bring to the attention of Christian parents their opportunity to make the home a place for the development of Christian experience. We hope to take up current problems involved in the religious training of the child in the home and to show the relation of the home to the Church and its work. Among other suggestions we will urge the practice of having a family altar. A special appeal will be made to homes which do not now practice having daily Bible reading and prayer. We expect to offer suggestions for the conduct of this and other religious activities which are consistent with Christian principles and Mennonite practice. We aim to provide materials and suggest methods of religious education for the Christian home to be used throughout the Church.

At the same time we are taking up these distinct features of Christian activity we will continue the process of co-ordinating the work which was formerly conducted under the leadership of the above-mentioned committees. We intend to promote and to supervise those Christian educational agencies chiefly which operate in the local congregations.

The Commission will be glad to assist any person or groups who may call for help in the study, organization, or promotion of any form of Christian teaching in the Church.

Harrisonburg, Va.

We all need help—it comes of God. (1) Help Upward (Ps. 116:6). We are often low, but He helps us even "out of an horrible pit" (Ps. 40:2). (2) Help Forward (Rom. 8:26). Our inward man that prays needs the help of the Holy Spirit. This need within the soul is met. (3) Help Onward (Ps. 121:1). As the pilgrims journey on to the Everlasting City, their eyes are lifted to the Lord—so He helps us on. If we have these Helps, we shall "continue" (Col. 1:23). —Miss Doris Boys.

The remembrance of our trials and sufferings ought to console us in death, for after that there will be no more trouble.—M.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S INSTITUTES

By Paul Erb

The past year has seen an increasing growth in the Young People's Institutes in the Mennonite Church. Institutes in particular localities or conference districts have passed the experimental stage and have become permanent fixtures in the program for the spiritual help of the young people of the Church. Many young people, having experienced blessings from these Institutes, keep on attending every year, while others each year are attending for their first time. To have some hundreds of our younger church members spending these days in Bible study and in Christian fellowship is one of the encouraging things in the life of our denomination, for it manifests a healthy interest in the best things, and on the part of our leaders, an intelligent effort to meet some real needs in spiritual life and growth. It is a cause for genuine thanks that from one Institute of ten years ago the number has increased to almost a dozen and that from thirty-five or forty attendants they are now numbered in the hundreds.

The reasons for the interest in the Young People's Institute are obvious to those who have been attending them. The young people do have spiritual problems which they keenly realize and for which they ardently desire help. It is significant that in one of the Institutes, the past summer, one of the largest enrollments of any class was that in the Victorious Life. Bible classes, too, are popular at the Institutes. Our young people realize their need for Bible knowledge and appreciate this added opportunity for systematic study. The Institute provides a place to go for a vacation which is restful, educational, and uplifting. In our farm communities summer is usually the busy season of the year, but an increasing number of our young people, as well as older ones, are coming to be engaged in factory and office work or in school work. Among such workers summer vacations are in order, and there are many who appreciate the opportunity which the Institute gives for a spiritually uplifting time of rest and recreation. More and more, too, the interests of our people are going beyond the borders of their own communities and congregations, and the Institute affords an opportunity for contacting young people from other communities and also instructors from various sections of the church.

During 1938, Institutes were held at Harrisonburg, Virginia; Arbutus Park, Johnstown, Pennsylvania; Archbold, Ohio; Goshen, Indiana; Kalona, Iowa; Garden City, Missouri; Harper, Kansas; Greensburg, Kansas; Manitou, Colorado; and Filer, Idaho. All but one of these Institutes were week-end meetings covering four or five days. The Institute at Arbutus Park has for the past three years had twelve-day sessions. It is held at a quiet and restful mountain camp ground and thus has a little more of the vacation and retreat atmosphere than the others can have. Plans are being considered to make the Institute at Manitou a longer Institute, something like Arbutus Park. This place also enjoys the advantage of a mountain location. Two of the Institutes, at Harrisonburg and Goshen, are conducted on college campuses and can enjoy the superior facilities of college classrooms and dormitories. Some of the Institutes, as in Ohio and the Pacific Coast district, meet in successive years at the various churches of the district. There may be reason for the organization of still other Institutes in the Church, but there are now Institutes organized in all sections of the Church so that almost anyone who is interested in attending may have the opportunity.

The daily program of an Institute usually includes a number of class periods in which, at the same time, several different subjects are taught the students. When they register for Institute, they decide which class they wish to attend. The idea is to meet individual needs and also to keep the class small enough for efficient teaching. Instructors should get acquainted with the class, but cannot do so if the classes are too large. Then there are assembly periods in which all the students meet for worship, song service, and to hear addresses. A common feature of the Institute is the discussion group, in which small groups, graded according to age or special interest, discuss questions of their own choosing, including all sorts of problems of the Christian daily life. These discussion groups, in which young people have had an opportunity to express their own convictions, as well as bring up their problems and questions, have proved to be very helpful. There is oftentimes a rest and recreation period which may include trips to spots of interest. Evening sessions are usually devoted to addresses to which the general public is invited.

The Institute movement in its beginning seemed to involve certain problems and dangers. These dangers still exist, but under careful leadership and wise supervision by the Church it bids fair to prove a constructive influence, and one of the most helpful features of our church life. May God bless it to this end.

THE ANOINTED EYE

It is very important to learn to look beyond the things seen, the things which are but temporal, to the things which are not seen, but which are eternal, and which are available even now to those who have faith in God. The Prophet Habakkuk learned that God wanted His people to walk by faith, and so he declared that even though the fig tree did not blossom, though there should be no fruit upon the vines, though the labor of the olive should fail, though the field should yield no meat, though the flock should be cut off from the fold, and though there be no herd in the stall, every natural source failing, yet he would rejoice in the Lord; he would rejoice in the One who provided the manna in the wilderness day by day, the One who would not let His people die of thirst, but provided streams of water in the desert from the smitten rock.—Peniel Herald.

BISHOP MOSES H. SHANTZ

By S. F. Coffman

The recent passing away of Bro. Moses H. Shantz has been one of the bereavements to the community and Church in general, which remains long in the memory and leaves a sense of sadness because of the esteem in which he was held and the loss which is felt in the circles of life he moved and served so faithfully.

Moses H. Shantz was the eldest of a family of seven children, two sons and five daughters, born to Solomon and Mary (Hostettler) Shantz. They resided on a farm near Haysville, Ontario, in the western section of the settlements made by the Mennonite people in Waterloo County in the early part of the last century. He springs from pioneer stock, and he carried with him in all of his work the same spirit as that which brought success to those who preceded him.

Moses H. Shantz

His early life was spent on the farm and in the schools in his district. Farming was his occupation and the source of his livelihood during his lifetime. It did not deprive him of the privileges of mental and spiritual development. He was interested in reading, observation, and learning. He was a man of social traits and his contacts with men and with all his associates were to him opportunities of development as well as privileges of helping others with his store of information, his keen judgment, and excellent counsels.

The home in which he was brought up was of an interesting nature. There was due respect for parents, and a warm attachment for home and for each other on the part of the children. The father was of a practical turn of mind interested in the welfare and success of his family. The mother was capable, practical, and interested in the mental and spiritual interests of her children whom she encouraged and inspired with her alert mental characteristics. To his mother, Bro. Shantz was closely attached, and in her latter years she was one of his chief concerns. He gave her constant care and assistance. To his mother he was undoubtedly indebted for that warmth of friendship and earnest spirit which was so apparent in all his Christian work. To his father he would be indebted for the practical and confident manner of his life and ministry. Those inherent qualities wonderfully fitted him for the positions of trust and leadership which fell to him and in which he proved himself worthy.

The first session of the Ontario Mennonite Bible School was held in the early months of 1907. Bro. Shantz was one of the first group of students attending the sessions of the School. He had united with the Church in 1898, and had been interested in the Sunday-school work and in the Bible Conferences which were held in those early years of his Christian life. But the opportunity of giving continuous study to the Word of God appealed to him, and afforded him an opportunity in which he delighted. In the following summer, 1907, Moses Shantz was ordained to the ministry of the Word for the congregation in the Blenheim District, his home congregation.

Bro. Shantz was a young man at the time of ordination, but he grew in grace and in the knowledge of the Word of God. He gave himself to reading, and meditation. He surrounded himself with helps in his study. He took advantage of whatever truth came to him from others and incorporated them in his store of knowledge. But, from all that he received, he gave it forth in a new message which revealed the fact that he was not a copyist, but an original thinker.

As a minister, Bro. Shantz was a remarkable helper to others on account of his deeply sympathetic nature. He could enter into their problems with understanding and appreciation; he felt with them their burdens and their sorrows; then, with the most kindly manner, he led them to wise decisions and to the comfort of Christian attitudes in all of their problems.

As a leader among his brethren in some church organizations with which he was connected, Bro. Shantz revealed his special abilities. He was a man with strong convictions and of good judgment, hence with personal opinions that were valuable, but he was not a self-willed man. In respect to Bro. Shantz, with whom it was my privilege to labor in Conference relations during all the days of his ministry, it may be said that he was always considerate of the opinions of others, and gracious toward the mind and will of his fellow ministers. This was the Christian spirit in which he labored as a leader of the sessions of the Ontario Conference for a period of ten consecutive years. It was owing to his ill health that he insisted upon his resignation as Moderator of the Ontario Conference.

The Ontario Mennonite Bible School was one of the organizations in which Bro. Shantz had a special delight. He was happy in all of his associations with the educational interests of the Church. His foresight led him to give encouragement to such institutions, for they laid the foundations of instruction and of spiritual life for the coming generations of God's witnesses in the Church and before the world. All who were connected with him in the work of directing the affairs of the Bible School will remember the enthusiasm with which he labored and planned for its success. His attendance at the sessions of the school were events of special pleasure to him, as was manifested in his frequent addresses to the student body.

The mission work of the Ontario Conference was recognized in the year 1929. At that time Bro. Shantz was very active in some of the extensions of the church work of the district. He was elected as chairman of the new Mission Board, and was active in the promotion of its interests. Besides being a director of the work of the Mission Board he was one of the most active of the workers in behalf of the various places of ministry under the Board. For this work he was especially adapted. He became acquainted and attached to the people among whom he labored. In larger groups of people he had the faculty of remembering names and places. Children were his friends and were always recognized by name. He was their friend in the home and in the congregation. His appeal to the congregations from the pulpit was not in sermonizing, but in talking to the congregation in a heart-to-heart message. It was this spirit of love and sympathy that gave him success in such labors.

The Ontario Conference was represented on the Committee on Arrangements for General Conference a number of times by Bro. Shantz. He was also a member of the Canadian section of the Peace Problems Committee of General Conference, and served with ability in those interests of the Church. It is not surprising that one who has had such deep interests in the cause of Christ and was so faithful in the duties to which he was called should be asked to serve in some of the most responsible places in the Church. It seemed good to the Spirit that he should be called to serve as the President of the Mennonite Publication Board. In this office as well as in other places of responsibility Bro. Shantz served with credit and with success.

It was the mind of the Ontario Conference to give more assistance in the bishop work of the Conference. On Sunday, July 24, 1938, Bro. Shantz was ordained to the office of bishop to serve especially the congregation at Clarence Center, New York. This congregation had grown to an extensive work during the last few years. Bro. Shantz had labored much among them as the director of the Mission Board which exercised a helping influence in their work. For their special care and help Bro. Shantz was ordained. But before he could pay them a visit or minister to them in this new capacity the Lord called him home, August 14, 1938. To the congregation at that place came a great sorrow and disappointment, for they had learned to appreciate the valuable service and the warm friendship of a faithful servant of Christ.

The home life of the subject of this sketch was that of a loving, Christian home. To the parents, Moses H. Shantz and his wife, who was Catherine Martin, of Elmira, Ont., and who were united in marriage March 4, 1908, came two sons, Gordon and Vernon, and two daughters, Luella and Mary. The family survive the father except one son, Vernon. The father was warmly attached to the dear ones of his household. They were all attached to him in affection and respect. They were united in home life and in Christian faith and interest. In the home they were inseparable until death called from their circle the son and father. The faithful companion and mother undertook the duties and care of the home in the frequent absences of the Lord's servant. He was careful that no hardships might befall those who labored in his absence, as the head of the home was called away for periods of time when duties were exceptionally heavy. Mutual concern for home and the Church often bore heavily upon them; but they shared the joys of Christian service and enjoyed the blessing and providences of the Lord whom they served in the frequent blessings that came to them in material and spiritual prosperity. The burden of the home comes upon those who are left, but the love and unity which had been formed during the lifetime of the home remains as the heritage of one who understood and guided in building a Christian home.

One may well feel that the Lord could say to our faithful Brother and laborer in the kingdom of Christ, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

BISHOP JOHN H. MOSEMANN

By John H. Gochnauer

We wish to acknowledge the kind help and interest of others, which have made it possible for the writer, a warm and intimate friend of our late brother, to compile this brief sketch of the life and labors of Bishop Mosemann.

John H. Mosemann

John H. Mosemann was the son of Philip and Elizabeth Herr Mosemann. He was born in the city of Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 1, 1877, in which city he lived practically all his life.

On Jan. 22, 1934, he suffered a paralytic stroke, which left him entirely helpless for some time, but he gradually improved so that he was able to get around very well and enjoy fellowship with the brotherhood in both regular and special church services. He also attended the Conference of the Lancaster District a number of times. Apparently, only his speech was not fully restored. On Aug. 20, 1938, he suffered a second attack which rendered him entirely helpless and unconscious, in which condition he continued until Sunday morning, Aug. 28, 1938, when in his home, in Lancaster, surrounded by most of his family, he "departed to be with Christ, which is far better."

Bro. Mosemann's so-called s c h o o l privileges were confined to only a brief period in the local high school in addition to his grade school work, but he was a student, always alert, and had gathered together a generous library of book friends. He heeded the advice of Paul to Timothy in II Tim. 2:15, "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

To the writer, Bro. Mosemann always seemed like, "an e l o q u e n t man, and mighty in the scriptures" (Acts 18:24).

He was engaged in a number of secular enterprises, but is best known for developing and successfully putting on the market the famous and delicious Mosemann's Peanut Butter.

At the age of eighteen he heard the Spirit's call and yielded himself to the Lord and united with the Mennonite Church, to which he gave freely his subsequent life in rich and fruitful service.

While the East Chestnut St. Church was founded in 1879, the congregation was cared for by four ministers from the rural community until December 11, 1904, when Bro. Mosemann was ordained to the ministry and became the first resident minister.

On July 29, 1926, he was ordained to the office of bishop, to succeed the late Daniel A. Lehman.

From the beginning of his Christian life he was filled with the mission spirit, so it is but natural to find him as one of the promoters of the first missionary endeavor in Lancaster City. On July 4, 1897, a building was rented on North St. near Rockland, and the first Sunday school was held. After a number of changes and after many difficulties and much opposition were overcome, this work grew and became permanently located at No. 112 East Vine St., since 1908.

Aside from giving his best energies as pastor to his local congregation, we find as early as 1908 he held a series of revival meetings at the Frazer Mission station. His great sympathetic and understanding heart, like his Master's, was moved to compassion when he saw need, both physical and spiritual. The two great evangelistic motives spurred him on. "The love of Christ constraineth us" (II Cor. 5:14) and "knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men" (II Cor. 5:11). His frank and forceful preaching of the Word brought blessing wherever his voice was heard, and today multitudes can think of him as their spiritual father.

His love for men and his pleasing personality made an ideal combination for personal contacts which he made freely and frequently. He was permitted to see some remarkable fruit from this seed sowing. Naturally with such zeal and a comprehensive knowledge of the Scriptures, his services were much in demand for special meetings and Bible Conference work throughout a large section of the Church. He was always a "contender for the faith," and an uncompromising fundamentalist, believing that "all scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable."

With pious zeal and in unmistakable terms, he taught against all forms of error and worldliness.

At one time Bro. Mosemann served as a member of the Publishing Committee and was first to suggest a "Doctrinal Supplement" as a regular feature of the "Gospel Herald."

He served as one of a committee of five, appointed by the Lancaster Conference to examine and approve all books used in our Sunday-school libraries. He was associate editor and writer of tract publications, of Lancaster Conference District, and also one of the editors and distributor of a little paper called "The Way," which has an enormous circulation and a strong evangelistic appeal. He has contributed numerous and outstanding articles to our church papers and rendered many services which we will know only when we meet on the other shore. We do not measure life by years, but by service, and our brother's life was rich and he still lives on in the hearts and lives of his bodily and spiritual children.

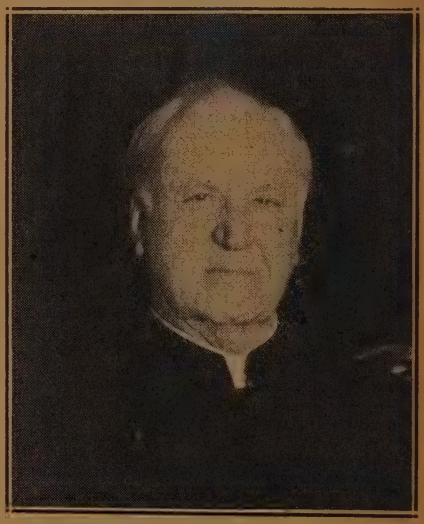
We bow and deeply mourn, with his family, his departure and seek to comfort our hearts and say that our loss is his eternal gain.

Manheim, Pa.

BISHOP GEORGE R. BRUNK

By Harry A. Brunk

Henry G. and Susan Heatwole Brunk were building a Christian home in the



George R. Brunk

Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, when the clouds of Civil War fell upon the nation. Henry G. Brunk for conscientious reasons refused to serve in the Southern army. He was forced to separate himself from his family and to live in seclusion. Then as the pressure of war became greater, he decided to find his way into Northern territory. Before his departure, however, he left instructions for his family to follow.

The Henry Brunk family was united again in Hagerstown, Md. While Mrs. Brunk was passing through the city, she stopped to enquire the way and saw her husband mending shoes. Several years later the family moved to Geneseo, Ill., where George R. Brunk was born on December 31, 1871. When the baby George was two years old, the family traveled west in a prairie schooner locating after a long hard journey on the Kansas frontier. The father took his bed of typhoid fever, upon arrival at their destination, never to recover. Three of the children died of the same disease. George R., though he was at the point of death, survived the affliction.

A mother and four small children were left to make their way as best they could. The hardships and privations, of the years that followed, were great. At the age of seventeen George R. was made responsible for the farm of one hundred-sixty acres. The farm which was heavily mortgaged at the time was turned over to his mother four years later free of debt.

In his twenty-first year George R. was ordained to the ministry. His conversion had taken place four years earlier under the preaching of Bro. J. S. Coffman. As a minister he served the churches as pastor, evangelist and Bible Conference speaker. In 1897, in his twenty-sixth year, he was ordained to the office of bishop.

In 1900 he married Katie Wenger of Harrisonburg, Va. To this union nine children were born—four boys and five girls. Bro. and Sister Brunk first established a home in McPherson County, Kans., where Bro. Brunk had bishop oversight of a number of churches. In 1907 they moved to Protection, Kans., and three years later, they came east, presumably for a short visit, locating at Denbigh, Va. When the Virginia Conference met, Bro. Brunk was given charge of congregations in southeastern Virginia. This conference action caused them to locate there permanently.

At Denbigh a colony of Mennonites was established. Bro. Brunk was a good judge of land. When he studied the nature of the land near Newport News, Va., he believed, that it could be developed successfully; and that the natives had left them the best land. This proved to be the case. A prosperous Mennonite colony and church has been established there. On his farm, Bro. Brunk specialized in the growing of nuts and fruits. The latest and best scientific methods were used in his work.

As a minister of the gospel he was quite effective. He was a natural born orator. Physically he stood head and shoulders above his fellows. Despite his large and strong body, he had a gracious manner. In the pulpit his gestures were natural and forceful. They helped to impress his message upon the hearts and lives of his hearers.

Bro. Brunk was a student of the Word. At the time of his call and following his call, he determined by the "grace of God" to have a message for his people; to rightly divide the word of truth. To accomplish this he spent much time in study, sometimes neglecting temporal affairs, in order to have food for the people.

A keen sense of discernment was his. For him, there was no mixture of truth and error, light and darkness. One principle of Bible interpretation that he emphasized was that a distinction should be made between the Old and New Testaments. He declared that many of the errors of Christendom were due to the confusion of the two dispensations.

He believed and taught that man must co-operate with God in order to obtain salvation. The writer heard Bro. Brunk preach a sermon on the "Ifs" of the Bible. In this message he called attention to a number of "Ifs" that must be complied with. If we are to be saved, we must meet the conditions found in the Word of God. It is not a matter of once saved always saved, or salvation by faith alone. It is a matter of the combination of faith and works on the part of a believer. For him it was not enough to "believe, believe," but along with believing to "do, do," to keep the commandments of God.

Bro. Brunk was a student of prophecy, past, present and future. He believed that just as the prophecies concerning Christ were literally fulfilled in the past, those of the future will be fulfilled in the same way. He was especially interested in eschatology—the end-time things. As a student of world conditions, in his late years, he saw these prophecies being fulfilled. Before he saw the fulfillment, having placed "his face in the Book," he said what would happen according to the Scripture. He declared that present-day conditions had justified such confidence in the Scriptures.

His formal education, due to the circumstances under which he lived, was limited to Kansas district schools. He was a self-made man. The college that he attended was "Brush College," as he called it. He read much and extensively. Even though he had little formal education, he was interested in church schools. He was a member of the Board of Education. As a member of the Board, and as a minister and bishop, it was his desire to keep our schools both Christian and Mennonite in character. When liberalism and modernism threatened our institutions, Bro. Brunk fought them long and hard. A number of leaders felt at the time that Bro. Brunk's efforts were uncharitable and therefore unreasonable. He was accused of trying to run the church. Subsequent history shows, in a large way, that Bro. Brunk was correct in his stand.

In the thick of the battle Bro. Brunk never lost his ardor for true and gen-

UNAFFILIATED MENNONITE CONGREGATIONS

The following is a list of ministers of various bodies of Mennonites who adhere to the tenets of the Confession of Faith adopted by the Mennonites at Dortrecht in 1632, but have not affiliated themselves with any of the organized conferences. If we are privileged to prepare future issues of this work, we shall be glad to add to this list as we secure information enabling us to do so.

uine Christian education. He was the leading figure in the establishment of a school in the East, the Eastern Mennonite School. He believed that a school could be established and maintained in harmony with the plain teaching of the Scriptures.

As has been indicated before Bro. Brunk had a broad outlook upon life. He recognized the good in people and institutions. In a commencement address delivered at the Eastern Mennonite School a number of years ago, Bro. Brunk addressed his hearers as citizens, meaning citizens of the state and nation. He wrote letters to the leaders of the state, commending them for their part in legislation, or recommending certain laws. In the flag salute controversy of the early '30's, he wrote articles for the newspapers, and with others, called upon the leaders of the State at Richmond, Va.

Bro. Brunk wrote much. Besides his book, "Ready Scriptural Reasons," he wrote articles for newspapers, church papers, and pamphlets. In 1927 he launched a paper known as the "Sword and Trumpet." He called this his last trench. In it he defined the drift in the church and opposed it. He also exposed the errors of Calvinism.

In early manhood he suffered a severe heart affliction. In 1917 he was very ill—at the point of death. Friends in Augusta County, Va., opened their homes to him while he received treatment from Dr. Beckler, an osteopath in Staunton, Va. Bro. Brunk felt that he would not get well; he had made preparations to die. He wrote letters to be opened after he was gone. Bro. Brunk had given up all hope of life here. Dr. Beckler gave him treatments, and tried to keep him from thinking that he was going to die. Dr. Beckler insisted that he was going to live. Bro. Brunk began to improve, the Lord restored him and he was saved to the church and his family for twenty years.

Bro. Brunk died suddenly on the evening of April 30, 1938. Bro. Brunk, with bucket and lantern went to milk the family cow. It seems that just as he had completed the task the end came. He passed to be with the Lord. His body was found lying partly across the lantern. The flame of the lantern was extinguished.

How symbolical the lantern is of his life. In his passing the church has lost a pastor, evangelist, a Bible teacher, a writer, and a Bishop;—an able leader and a strong disciplinarian.

Is it easy for you to shower mercy and grace upon those who are anything but merciful and gracious? You know it is impossible to be the Christly bestower of mercy and grace, except on those who are mean and crooked enough to need it. That is not mercy nor grace which you extend toward those who see with you eye to eye, and succeed in doing just that which suits your taste.—R.

"Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth" (James 5:7).

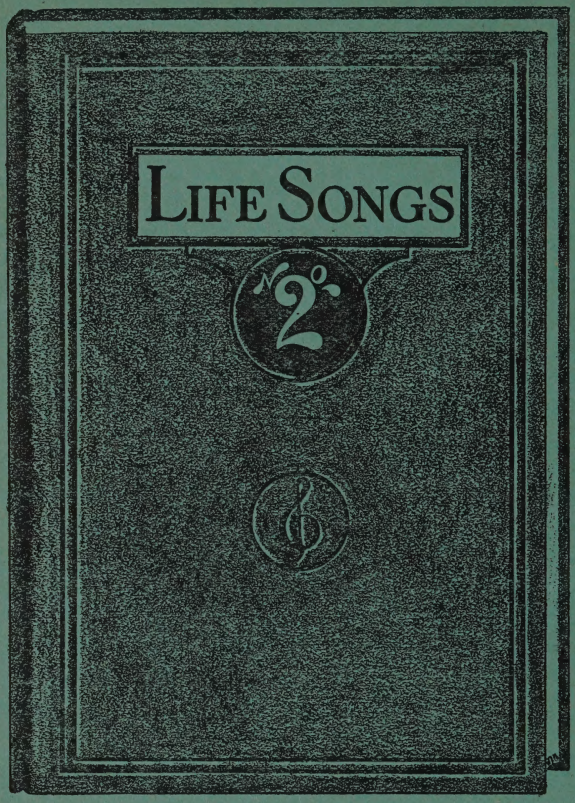
Inspirational Songs



A Collection of Sacred Songs for Sunday School, Young People's Meetings, and Evangelistic Services

Published under the direction of a committee appointed by Mennonite General Conference

The committee purposely used very few songs which appear in our other song books. Therefore this book should bring new life and variety into our worship. By special arrangement with one of the largest publishers of religious song books, we have use in this book of a great many of the general favorite selections.

The book is of standard size, 6 x 8½ inches. Size of music plates 4½ x 7¼ inches. It contains 288 pages, 320 songs with the music, 20 familiar hymns in words only. Issued in both shaped and round notes.
